WELCOME

The historic seaside village of Port Fairy is a unique example of a well preserved 19th century shipping port. The township has retained its old world character and there are an amazing number of architectural styles represented. Take time to walk our lovely beaches, regardless of the weather these unspoiled beaches never lose their charm. In the winter months you may be lucky enough to spot a southern right whale frolicking beyond the breakers of the East Beach. Try a spot of surf fishing, these pristine waters provide all anglers with great sport and of course nothing tastes better than a fish you have caught yourself.

The first regular European visitors were Bass Strait sealers on seasonal hunting expeditions from Tasmania. These were tough hard working men who had little time to leave written records so the exact dates are uncertain. It was probably around 1828 that Captain Wishart, on a sailing expedition in his cutter "Fairy", became caught in a storm. Luckily he found shelter for the night in a little bay and to his delight, at daybreak, he found that he was at the mouth of an excellent river. He named the bay "Port Fairy", in honour of his tiny ship.

The meandering Moyne River runs out to meet the sea here in Port Fairy. The Moyne provides a safe anchorage for the commercial fishing fleet and pleasure boats jostle for space in the small marina on the eastern bank of the river. This area is the historic heart of Port Fairy, lovely old buildings line Gipps Street and the wharf and the adjacent King George VI Memorial Square open this historic vista to all.

The internationally known Port Fairy Folk Festival is the biggest draw card of the year but every month or so there is a special event or weekend. When the summer holidays are here we have the fabulous Moyneyana Festival with 33 days of great family fun.

Take time to learn about the early days. Taste the best of Western District produce at the many restaurants and cafes. If fashion is your passion then prepare to be impressed at the range in our boutique shopping centre.

But don't spend all your time in Port Fairy. Visit some of the magnificent National Parks on our doorstep, take the kids koala spotting at Tower Hill, marvel at the Hopkins Falls in spring when the water roars over in a torrent and visit some of the delightful small villages that surround us.

Few people who visit our lovely town fail to succumb to its charm.

HISTORIC PORT FAIRY

THE WHARF AREA

At its peak in the 1850s, the port was one of the busiest in Australia. Wool, wheat and gold were loaded onto great sailing ships bound for England. The ships anchored in the bay while goods and passengers were ferried back and forth from the wharf on lighters.

Once warehouses and wharves fronted the river however only one of these remains today. The Moyne Mill, originally a five storey bluestone flour mill dominates the main wharf area. The round topped storage shed, with a roof of bow string trusses is still used for its original purpose.

The Casino Memorial, on King George Square, overlooks the wharf. It commemorates the wreck of the S.S. Casino on 10 July 1932. Port Fairy was the home port of this steamer and the community was devastated when it was wrecked at Apollo Bay. Several lives were lost.

SHIPWRECKS

Victoria's coastline can be quite treacherous. The prevailing winds from the south west push vessels northward toward land and it required excellent navigation skills. Not all ships made it to port safely and there are around 29 wrecks in the immediate area. Perhaps the most noteworthy is the Thistle wrecked on Christmas Day 1837. Many ships were wrecked when easterly gales blew in and the vessel parted from its anchor and was smashed up on the beach.

Another famous wreck in the vicinity is the fabled Mahogany Ship. Believed to be a Portuguese or Spanish caravel the wreck was first sighted by shipwrecked sealers in the 1830s. Legend has it buried in the dunes or even under water somewhere around Armstrong Bay, south of Tower Hill. It remains a mystery awaiting rediscovery.

THE LIFEBOAT STATION

Griffiths Street (near Battery Lane)

Built in Williamstown in 1857, it is the oldest surviving self-righting lifeboat in the world. The lifeboat station contains a collection of 19th century maritime rescue equipment. Guided tours are available (min 4 people) if booked through Port Fairy V.I.C and also during peak holiday periods.

BATTERY HILL & THE POWDER MAGAZINE

This hill first served as the Harbour Master's signal point for shipping. Local militia units established the gun batteries and built the concrete fortifications that were completed in 1887. The cannons collection of such weapons is exceptional. The bluestone powder magazine was built in 1860 to store explosives used in the construction of the river wall.

MOTTS COTTAGE

3 Sackville Street Open 2 – 4pm Wednesday and Saturday

This small cottage dates from the late 1840s and is an excellent example of an early working mans home. The cottage was built in stages with the front section being the oldest. There have been a number of owners with the Mott family being long term residents 1918 – 1944.

PORT FAIRY COURTHOUSE (now the History Centre)

30 Gipps Street. Open 2 – 5pm Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Port Fairy Courthouse is a magnificent bluestone building c. 1860. It is unusually large for a small country town but it was designed for sittings of the Supreme Court, County Court and Magistrates Court. The last Court sitting was in 1988. Since 1992 the building has been the headquarters of the Port Fairy Historical Society.

THE LIGHTHOUSE

Built on Griffiths Island in 1859 from local bluestone. With each course of stones a long slab was inserted to protrude towards the centre, so the staircase with its magnificent spiral sweep is actually part of the wall. The causeway and wall were built to provide safe access in the south westerly gales, which send huge seas crashing onto the area. The keepers' cottages were demolished in the 1950s but the lighthouse still operates on wind and solar power. It takes around twenty minutes to walk the 1.25km northern track to the lighthouse, which is an easy walk along a concrete path and a limestone surface road. It takes a further 40 minutes to walk the 1.65 km to return to the carpark by the south track. This requires a little more agility, as there is some beach walking and an uneven track.

RAILWAY PLACE

The official opening of the Port Fairy to Warrnambool Railway line took place on 25 February 1890 with the biggest ceremony and banquet that Port Fairy had ever enjoyed. The last train came in September 1977. Railway Place was the site of the Station, The Goods Shed and the Station Master's Cottage both of the latter still remain.

WALKING TOURS

There are over 70 buildings of historic significance and the best way to appreciate this legacy is on foot. Self guided walking maps are available at the Visitor Centre. Pre booked guided tours for groups can be arranged, contact the Visitor Information Centre.

NATURAL BEAUTY

THE CRAGS

A short drive west of Port Fairy you will find The Craggs, Yambuk Lake and Codrington. The Craggs is a wild and scenic section of the coastline with calcified tree roots, jagged outcrops and panoramic views along the coast. The rocky cliffs protect small bays and are rich in wildlife including a significant Silver Gull breeding site on the eastern most island. You can view the whole reserve from the lookout including Lady Julia Percy Island offshore.

The area contains many aboriginal cultural sites and places and has spiritual connections with Lady Julia Percy Island. The Craggs was used over many thousands of years as a gathering, ceremonial and feasting place for Aboriginal people. Its cultural significance is listed under the National Estate of Australia.

WHALES IN WINTER

Whales can be seen in increasing numbers off the beaches in Port Fairy each year from June to October. The most commonly seen is the Southern Right Whale which comes into the area to mate and calve. They can be spotted nursing their young, waving their pectoral fins in the air and breaching – leaping head first out of the water and falling back with a mighty splash.

For more info contact the Port Fairy and Region Visitor Information Centre on 03 5568 2682.

LADY JULIA PERCY ISLAND

West of Port Fairy, Lady Julia Percy Island is Australia's only submarine volcano. When lava erupts under water a typical type of lava called pillow lava occurs. These are tube like structures where the interaction with water forms a crust on the outside and molten lava continues to flow inside. The lava flows have created an unusual flat top and almost vertical cliffs surround the island. This island is home to the largest colony of fur seals in the Southern Hemisphere and several bird species. These include diving petrel, peregrine falcon, fairy prion and sooty oyster catchers. A number of small but unusual plant species survive in the caves in the cliff walls.

TOWER HILL

Tower Hill State Game Reserve to the east of Port Fairy is a rare example of a nested maar volcano, and was declared Victoria's first National Park in 1892. Local animals and plant species are in abundance however it wasn't always like this. Following European settlement of the western district the land was cleared for farming purposes and the area became quite degraded and barren. In the 1960s groups of people including field naturalists, school children, sporting shooters and many others began to restore the landscape. Over time as the trees and shrubs matured, birds and animals returned to Tower Hill. Picnic facilities, an interpretive centre, tours and walking trails make this a "must do" activity.

HOPKINS FALLS

The Hopkins River meanders through the Moyne Shire until it reaches Wangoom where it plunges down a rocky escarpment before making its way to the sea at Warrnambool. A viewing platform offers fantastic viewing and photo opportunities. There are picnic facilities in the reserve. Best times for viewing the falls are winter and spring when rainfall is usually at its peak.

MT ECCLES NATIONAL PARK

Mt Eccles National Park is only a five minute drive west of the Macarthur via a sealed road. Geologists estimate that Mt Eccles first erupted around 30,000 years ago producing a river of hot molten lava that flowed around 50km south to the sea. This lava flow effectively dammed rivers and streams forming large wetlands and swamps. Mt Eccles National Park features several walking tracks, a camping area and excellent picnic facilities. The geological features include Lake Surprise, a beautiful crater lake, lava canals, a natural bridge, lava blisters, collapsed lava tunnels and lava cave (take a torch). The park also contains Victoria's last great stand of manna gum woodland, the favourite food of the resident koala population.

NATURAL BEAUTY

GRIFFITHS ISLAND

A natural oasis almost in the heart of the town, Griffiths Island supports a number of native animals including a small mob of swamp wallabies. It is also the site of one of the Australia's most accessible breeding colonies of short tailed shearwaters or mutton-birds. The birds follow an amazing life cycle which is detailed below. Please keep to the tracks on the island, for a careless foot can collapse a burrow and bury a mutton bird or chick. A Friends Group (see community groups) cares for the island, holds working bees and generally ensures that the island remains a place for all to enjoy.

MUTTON-BIRDS

The bird we commonly call the mutton-bird is the short tailed shearwater (Puffinus tenuirostris). It was given this name by early settlers who utilised its fatty flesh for food and as a source of oil. Today the bird is totally protected in Victoria, although limited harvesting still occurs on some Tasmanian islands.

The short-tailed shearwater is the only variety of petrel whose breeding ground lies solely in Australia, mostly on islands off south-east Australia concentrated around Bass Strait. The birds appear in large numbers and the Griffiths Island colony numbers several thousand birds.

The birds have an amazing lifecycle and each year the breeding age birds return to their nesting grounds on almost the same day. They usually return to their same nesting burrow and generally mate with the same partner throughout their breeding life. After they arrive back to Griffiths Island they spend the next few weeks either digging or clearing out their burrows. The burrows are around one metre long in the soft soil/sand close under the surface. Mating occurs in early November with the entire population flying off to sea for about 2 weeks. The one oval white egg is laid upon return.

The male and female birds share the incubation duty with the male spending the first 12 – 14 days on the egg followed by the female for 10 – 13 days. This alternating continues until the egg hatched in mid January. Two or three days after hatching, the chick is left during the day while the parents forage at sea for food, which is regurgitated to the chick at night.

In mid April the adult birds commence their Pacific migration leaving their young behind. Hunger eventually draws the chicks from the nest until they finally set off after the adults. They instinctively know the route to follow. Reproductive maturity is attained at about five years of age.

For more information about the mutton-birds, collect a small leaflet from the Port Fairy Visitor Information Centre.

THE RAIL TRAIL

Traversing around 37km of picturesque rural countryside the Port Fairy – Warrnambool Rail Trail provides a great opportunity for families and amateur or keen cyclists to get on their bike and explore off the beaten track. Ideal for those on mountain, hybrid and touring cycles it is also accessible by those on road bikes if care is taken.

There is a slight gradient either side of Koroit with only a few short steep sections. The trail can be walked or cycled in sections, with parking available at Port Fairy, Koroit railway station, Levy's Point car park and at the Warrnambool breakwater. The majority of the three metre wide trail is made of packed limestone; short sections are sealed and there is packed quartz at the Warrnambool end. The trail is generally open with only one short forested section. Water should be carried on hot days and appropriate clothing should be worn to allow for changes in the weather. Remember the sunscreen in summer.

The countryside along the trail is quite diverse. Starting in the historic harbour village of Port Fairy the township gives way to farmlands with paddocks of dairy cows and beef cattle. If a shorter ride would suit you better then break your journey at Koroit (17.7km from Port Fairy) and soak up some of their Irish heritage or cycle down to the rim of Tower Hill for a panoramic view across the crater and out to sea. As you head towards Warrnambool the scenery will change once again and eventually the paddocks will give way to swamp land, coastal sand dunes and the river flats along the Merri River until you end at the Warrnambool breakwater. The trail will provide a wildlife corridor along its length.

This trail is part of the state wide network of recreational trails along disused railway lines. It provides safe access for visitors who want to forgo their vehicles and yet visit and explore the three linked towns.

Please note dogs must be on leads and are only allowed on the township sections of the trail. Horses are not permitted on any part of the rail trail.

*"Port Fairy has always had this thing called 'Port Fairy Time'. Time in Port Fairy is always just...whatever! Always a bit slower. We're in heaven here and we know it!"

MACARTHUR

55km north west of Port Fairy via C184

The Macarthur landscape is dominated by Mt Eccles an extinct volcano to the west of the town. Follow the historic trail around the town (map available at retail outlets or through the Port Fairy Visitor Information Centre) featuring around 23 interesting buildings or sites.

Geologists estimate that Mt Eccles first erupted around 30,000 years ago. Local aboriginal people created a complex system of channels and weirs through these wetlands to harvest eels, one of their staple foods. Evidence of stone huts and a settled society show how well the area sustained the Gunditjmarra people. Mt Eccles National Park features several walking tracks, a camping area and excellent picnic facilities. Geological features include Lake Surprise, a crater lake, lava canals, a natural bridge, lava blisters, collapsed lava tunnels and lava cave (take a torch). The park also contains Victoria's last great stand of manna gum woodland, the favourite food of the resident koalas. Further information can be obtained from Parks Victoria www.parkweb.vic.gov.au.

Macarthur has a heated outdoor pool, synthetic grass tennis courts, a bowls club where visiting bowlers will be made very welcome, a sand scrape golf course to test your abilities but most importantly a friendly welcoming community.

Accommodation (Farmers Inn B&B), Macarthur Pub, fuel available.

HAWKESDALE

30km north of Port Fairy via C178

Hawkesdale is located 30km from Port Fairy along the C178 the main tourist route between Port Fairy and The Grampians.

You will love the local landmark, "the funkiest toilet in the South West" with fabulous murals designed and painted by the young people of the Hawkesdale area. Try the outdoor pool, open in the summer months or stroll along the historic walking trail which begins at Apex Park - a great picnic spot. Hawkesdale is an ideal rest stop on your journey north.

16km east of Port Fairy Via A1 and C179

KOROIT

Koroit is a thriving small town smack bang in the middle of some of our best farming land. The volcanic ash that once poured from the vents of the complex of maar volcanoes that we know today as the Tower Hill Reserve laid the foundation for this wonderful fertile soil which now supports contented dairy cows and paddocks of potatoes and onions.

Many of the earliest settlers in the Koroit area were from Ireland. Descendants are still in the district and they celebrate their heritage at the annual Koroit Irish Festival held in late April. Events include potato picking, Irish dancing, poetry readings and of course lots of fabulous music. Refer www.koroitirishfestival.com.au

There is a wealth of historic buildings, from small cottages to large imposing commercial buildings and churches. Follow the historic walking trail past many of these early buildings. The botanical gardens feature many mature trees. You can picnic on the lawns or enjoy a swing in the adjacent playground. Get on you bike and travel either east to Warrnambool or west to Port Fairy along the newly established Rail Trail.

Accommodation (Olde Courthouse Inn B&B, Tower Hill House, Koroit – Tower Hill Caravan Park), Tower Hill Lavender. Good shopping, post office, food, fuel.

KILLARNEY

12km east of Port Fairy Via A1

When we think of Killarney, we think of a beautiful beach, surfing and some great fishing. It's a top spot for whiting, Australian salmon and flathead. A boat launching ramp is available, just follow the signs from the carpark. Traditionally the land has been used for onion and potato growing and of course it's lush dairy country as well.

Accommodation (Killara B&B, Calgary House, The Beach House B&B Carleton Inn Motel and Killarney Camping Ground) Downunder Ugg Boots. Basalt Wines, The Pantry Door Cafe/Cellar Door. For fuel – Port Fairy or Koroit.

PETERBOROUGH

234km east of Melbourne
Via B100 Great Ocean Road
80km north east Port Fairy Via A1 & B100

Peterborough is the most westerly coastal village on the Great Ocean Road. Located at the mouth of the Curdies River, it has been shaped by the sea and the wind with weathered limestone cliffs and off shore rocks stacks at the nearby Bay of Islands Coastal Park.

The fantastic golf course is rated amongst the best in the state and lures golfers from far and wide while fishermen love both the surf and river fishing. There are several good surf breaks in the beaches close to Peterborough. Ask at the general store for suggestions. Walkers are well catered for with beach walks ranging from short walks of about 30 minutes to a walk of two or three hours along the cliff tops. Information can be obtained from the Bay of Islands Coast Park notes or from the Port Campbell Visitor Information Centre in Morris Street.

This spectacular but treacherous coastline has seen many ships come to grief, blown ashore in wild gales or caused by navigation miscalculations.

Peterborough is an ideal spot for a relaxing break or to use as base to explore the Great Ocean Road and beyond.

Accommodation including caravan park, self contained, motel, hotel, food, fuel, boat ramp available.

MORTLAKE

234km west of Melbourne Via B140 Hamilton Hwy
50km north east Port Fairy Via A1 and B120 Hopkins Hwy

Mortlake is situated at the foot of Mt Shadwell. There is no need to hurry through. Stop for a while and enjoy what Mortlake has to offer.

If gem stones are of interest the Mortlake Quarry allows fossicking although you need to complete an indemnity form (available at Moyne Shire Offices or Mortlake Info. Centre) before starting. Olivine is a crystal that can be found in volcanic “bombs” thrown out in volcanic eruptions from Mt Shadwell many thousand of years ago. Olivine, also known as peridot, is a very pretty light green in colour.

As the town prospered, many fine buildings were erected. These are still evident today, particularly those in the historic Shaw Street bluestone precinct. A map detailing the various buildings and sites is available from the Visitor Information Centre in Dunlop Street.

Mortlake has excellent sports facilities with a 9 hole golf course, bowls club, tennis courts and swimming pool. The Racing Club hosts the popular Mortlake Cup in October. Tea Tree Lake area is right in the heart of town, ideal for walking, picnicking, fishing and bird watching.

Accommodation including camping, hotels/motel, B&B, food, fuel, post office, good shopping etc all available.

YAMBUK & CODRINGTON

The Shaw and Eumeralla Rivers converge at Yambuk to form the Yambuk Lake which is a paradise for bird lovers and fisherman. The tranquil waters of the lake are ideal for boating and fishing and a boardwalk and track leads to the mouth of the river. The small camping ground has good facilities for both short and long stays. Excellent picnic and barbecue areas make it a popular spot for families and the famous giant slide is always a hit with the kids. The beach at Yambuk can be quite treacherous, as strong currents run between the mainland and Lady Julia Percy Island a few kilometres off shore so it is not safe to swim there.

The small village of Yambuk is situated on the Princes Highway, west of Port Fairy. The Yambuk Inn, a beautiful historic hotel on the north side of the highway was built in the early 1870s and still trades today.

Just to the west of Yambuk is Codrington, not a town or village but a farming area which is now the site of a new type of farm – a wind farm. Victoria's first wind farm was built here in 2001. More than 40 turbines have been built to provide clean, green energy for Victoria. Tours of the wind farm by groups can be arranged (refer p.36) however the towers are easily sighted from the Princes Highway.

RESTAURANTS, HOTELS & CAFES

Port Fairy is known as one of the top dining destinations along the Great Ocean Road. The colourful country pub bistros and Good Food Guide recommended restaurants make this the place to eat! Our restaurants offer menus that are diverse, contemporary and classical, utilising the best regional produce. This is a fishing village with an active fishing fleet so there is always seafood on the menu.

The café culture of Port Fairy is also well established. The whole gamut of coffee experiences is here and we haven't forgotten tea drinkers, with choices of traditional, green or herbal infusions. Cakes and sweet selections will tempt even the most iron willed visitors.

Takeaway options are excellent with Thai, Chinese, pizzas and traditional fish and chips. Some of the deli style cafes offer tubs of soup and servings of lasagne or quiche to take home and enjoy... after all who wants to cook when you are on holiday.

What is it about Port Fairy that artists find so inspiring? Is it the constantly changing colours of the sea, the changing seasons or the many beautiful but sometimes hidden corners of the town?

There are several galleries in and around Port Fairy who showcase works in a variety of mediums; glass, textiles, bespoke jewellery, photography and works on paper in oils or watercolours. Art classes, including silk painting can be arranged for individuals or groups with some classes' ideal for children.

SPECIALTY SHOPPING

Who doesn't love shopping? Our village shopping centre includes a range of women's fashion boutiques offering a great mix of casual and special occasion outfits. And of course if it's a new dress then you need a new handbag, new shoes, perhaps a scarf or wrap, the list goes on.

There are other tempting shops as well, gift and home wares, antiques, bookshops, jewellery and the essentials such as the newsagency, pharmacy, butcher, bakers, supermarket, hardware, and banks.

Visit some of the specialist food providers. Be tempted by the gourmet olive oils, condiments, fragrant herbs and spices that will add an exotic flavour to your dishes. Step back in time and try some of the old fashioned favourite lollies from the confectionary shop or try a gourmet chocolate such as one flavoured with earl grey tea.

Three times a month we have a Saturday market. Second and fourth Saturday of the month it's the craft market and the third Saturday it's the Farmers market. We do love a market though and others are slotted in throughout the year to coincide with festivals and special events – ask at the Visitor Centre for more details.
